Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-8, drawn to a dosage regimen for administering tramadol to a patient comprising administering about 75 mg-125 mg of tramadol in a controlled release dosage for about 4-10 days. Then about 175-225mg of tramadol for about 4-10 days and then 275 mg-325 mg of tramadol for at least one day, classified in class 514, subclass 620.
- II. Claims 9-16, 27-28, drawn to a dosage regimen for administering tramadol to a patient comprising administering 100 mg of tramadol in a controlled release dosage for about 1-7 days. Then about 200 mg of tramadol for about 8-14 days and then 300 mg of tramadol for at least one day on day 15 and thereafter and kits comprising said product, classified in class 514, subclass 567.
- III. Claims 17-21, drawn to a dosage regimen for administering tramadol to a patient comprising administering about 175 mg-225 mg of tramadol in a controlled release dosage for about 4-10 days. Then about 275-325 mg of tramadol in a controlled release dosage form once a day for at least one day and optionally thereafter, classified in class 514, subclass 553.
- IV. Claims 22-26, 29-30, drawn to a dosage regimen for administering tramadol to a patient comprising administering 200 mg of tramadol in a controlled release dosage for about 1-7 days. Then about 300 mg of tramadol at least one day and optionally thereafter and kits comprising said product, classified in class 514, subclass 567.

Art Unit: 1656

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

The inventions of Groups I-IV are patentably distinct each from the other because each dosage regimen has different steps and different end-points.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Art Unit: 1656

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
